Lesson 4.5

Recap on Responder's Bidding

Recall the Fundamental Rules

How many HCP are required to OPEN? 12-19

How many HCP are required to RESPOND? 6+

How many cards of same suit MUST you have between your hands to have a FIT?? 8+

As Responder you can SUPPORT or you can bid
A NEW SUIT or you can bid NO TRUMPS

Recall the Fundamental Rules

If you choose to SUPPORT PARTNER'S SUIT, the rules are:

- Minimum HCP (6-9) ... bid at the 2-level
- Nearly game HCP (10-12) ... bid at the 3-level
- Game HCP (13+) ... bid at the Game level

These are LIMIT BIDS – you are telling your partner you like the suit they bid (confirming a fit) and telling them HOW MANY POINTS you have within a range
THEN LET THEM DECIDE WHAT HAPPENS NEXT

Recall the Fundamental Rules

If you choose to BID A NEW SUIT, the rules are:

- Your HCP (6+) ... bid new suit at the 1-level
- Your HCP (10+) ... bid new suit at the 2-level

These are FORCING BIDS – you are telling your partner you DON'T like the suit they bid (possibly no fit) and telling them HOW MANY POINTS you have with lower range, unlimited upper range

THEN LET THEM DECIDE WHAT HAPPENS NEXT

Note: they MUST and WILL BID AGAIN
because you forced them

Recall the Fundamental Rules

Which suit do you bid first?

1. Longest suit
2. Lower ranking of two 4-card suits
3. Higher ranking of two 5-card suits

These are UNLIMITED FORCING BIDS – you are telling your partner you DON'T like the suit they bid (possibly no fit) and telling them HOW MANY POINTS you have with lower range, unlimited upper range

THEN LET THEM DECIDE WHAT HAPPENS NEXT

Note: they MUST and WILL BID AGAIN
because you forced them

Recall the Fundamental Rules

Remembering the difference between a LIMIT BID and a FORCING BID is extremely important.

It makes the difference between stopping before you get in too deep (PASS is the hardest bid to make) AND getting to GAME level where you get a good score
